

An Answer to Nanny D ;

Or, The Happy Agreement between the Two Scotch Lovers,

WILLY & NANNY.

Tune of, Nanny O.

This may be printed, R. P.

At thou so loyal to thy Love,
then Ple the like of kindness show :
There's no one that I prize above
my young and lively Willy O.
'Tis Willy, Willy, Willy O,
the love I bear to Willy O,
All the world shall never know
the love I bear to Willy O.

If I might have Lord, Duke, or Earl,
and in rich silks and wattens go,
I'd rather adorn'd with Orient Pearl,
I'd leave it all for Willy O.

'Tis Willy, Willy, Willy O,
the love I bear to Willy O,
All the world shall never know
the love I bear to Willy O.

If to my Father you should ride
and he should chance to answer no,
Yet I will yield to be the Bride
of thee my Loyal Willy O.
'Tis Willy, Willy, Willy O,
the love I bear to Willy O,
All the world shall never know
the love I bear to Willy O.

An Answer to Nanny O ;

Or, The Happy Agreement between the Two Scotch Lovers,

WILLY & NANNY.

Tune of, Nanny O.

This may be printed, R. P.

At thou so loyal to thy Love,
then Ple the like of kindness show :
There's no one that I prize above
my young and lively Willy O.
'Tis Willy, Willy, Willy O,
the love I bear to Willy O,
All the world shall never know
the love I bear to Willy O.

If I might have Lord, Duke, or Earl,
and in rich silks and wattens go,
I'd be adorn'd with Orient Pearl,
I'd leave it all for Willy O.

'Tis Willy, Willy, Willy O,
the love I bear to Willy O,
All the world shall never know
the love I bear to Willy O.

If to my Father you should ride
and he should chance to answer no,
Yet I will yield to be the Bride
of thee my Loyal Willy O.
'Tis Willy, Willy, Willy O,
the love I bear to Willy O,
All the world shall never know
the love I bear to Willy O.

My Dearest, I have House and Land,
a curious Lamb and breeding Dow;
With these I'll give both heart and hand
to thee my loving Willy O.
'Tis Willy, Willy, Willy O,
the love I bear to Willy O,
All the world shall never know
the love I bear to Willy O.

To thee I never will be coy,
behold, mine Eyes like fountains flow;
'Tis with the estate of Joy,
in mating with my Willy O.
'Tis Willy, &c.

In Cards and Dice some takes delight until it proves their overthrow;
But thou in Nanny's beauty bright
who is in love with Willy O.
'Tis Willy, &c.

If thou comest to me soon or late,
my love and loyalty I'll show;
Boy or man shall alwaies wait
on thee my true-Love Willy O.
'Tis Willy, &c.

My dear, that day that we are wed
we will invite all, high and low,
Then I'll afford my Maiden-head
to thee my True-Love VVilly O.
'Tis Willy, &c.

Against that day a fine Lac'd Band
upon my Love I will bestow;
There's no young man in Cumberland
that can compare with VVilly O.
'Tis Willy, &c.

My Love, we'll make no long delay,
but to the Kirk with speed we'll go;
Upon the next high Holiday,
where we'll be married, VVilly O.
'Tis Willy, Willy, Willy O,
the love I bear to Willy O,
All the world shall never know
the Love I bear to Willy O.

Printed for P. Brooksby at the Golden Ball in Py-corner.